

CAN YOU DEFEND YOUR PTO?

STRENGTHEN YOUR PTO POSITION

- In virtually every case, a PTO (Protection Order) covers the production of most documents produced — Product information, emails, marketing strategies, and company memos are, by nature, proprietary, confidential and/or sensitive.
- Many documents are not entirely privileged. The PTO will require different layers of protection for different documents. Parties, attorneys, witnesses and experts all might be permitted access to certain docs, but not all.
- WikiLocks allows both parties to differentially protect and control access to any part of any document produced, monitor compliance, and enable better enforcement.
